

Eisenhower Invites Voters To Oust Democrats From Power

Makes Debut
In Politics
At Abilene

Abilene, Kan. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a rain-drenched throng of Midwesterners yesterday the Democrats had been in power too long and he implied the people must vote them out of office in November to bring an end to corruption in high places.

With this speech, the famous warrior—now in civilian clothes—waded into the fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

But his first major homecoming address was almost spoiled by an old-fashioned Kansas downpour which kept thousands from the unprotected stadium where he spoke and left only a handful of hardy, sodden souls braving the weather to hear the general in front of the flag-decked grandstand.

He began his speech by saying 'you are experiencing a Kansas shower but I assure you it is not half as much water as there was in the English Channel eight years ago today.'

This was a reference to the great invasion across the channel which Eisenhower directed in 1944.

Then he moved into the text of his prepared address, speaking fairly fast. The rain had stopped by then and a chill breeze blew across the stand.

He called for an end to waste and extravagance in government spending, a foreign policy stripped of all "mystery," and continued co-operation with our Allies in the fight against Communism.

Not once did Eisenhower mention the Democrats by name. Neither did he mention in his prepared text this candidacy or his chief Republican opponent, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

But there was a strong throw-the-rascals-out tone to his speech when he said:

"Political health is endangered if one party, by whatever means, becomes permanently or too-long most inevitable consequence is graft and incompetence in remote and even in prominent places of government."

"Obviously, this is something that applies today: one party has been in power too long in this country." The word "one" was underlined in the text of his speech.

Eisenhower, accompanied by his wife, Mamie, arrived here from Kansas City by a special train.

Eisenhower walked a few yards from the train almost to the back-yard of his old homeplace and there took part in the laying of a cornerstone for a museum which will house his war trophies.

He talked of his mother and father and the religious training they had given their sons. "Their Bibles were live and lusty influences in their lives," he said. "They never doubted that the fear of God was the beginning of wisdom."

Rolling cheers followed the Eisenhowers to the little hotel where they rested before reviewing a parade depicting scenes from Eisenhower's career.

In his main speech, Eisenhower:

1. Held out the prospect of less spending on foreign aid. "I believe we can look forward to decreasing future costs without sacrificing the essentials of reasonable goals."

2. Spoke out against excessive taxation and government spending. "Long continued taxes that are only a little below the confiscatory level will destroy free government."

3. Argued against the national government's taking over functions that belong to local communities. "Bureaucracy—helpless to lead older nations to security and prosperity—will do no better in America."

4. Said "The settlement of disputes and grievances requires—together, of course, with simple and clear legal processes—a climate of good will, and appreciation of good citizenship and responsible concern for all the people—and, most important—public confidence in the fairness and impartiality of appointed agents and agencies."

Eisenhower said the course America has chosen to combat Communism is a courageous one, but "The mystery must be removed from foreign relations—our essential requirements and objectives must be clearly set forth for us and all others to read and to comprehend."

FIVE CENTS

Senate Retains Controls, Drops Potato Ceilings

Washington (AP)—The Senate last night beat down a proposal to suspend all wage and price controls and then killed an amendment to take price ceilings off food and all farm products.

But the lawmakers—irate over potato shortages—voted to ban all price ceilings on fresh fruits and vegetables. Sponsors said this would apply only to potatoes because no other perishable is under ceilings.

Ohio's Sen. Taft, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, entered the debate with vigor as the Senate labored far into the night on a broad measure to extend economic controls beyond June 30.

Fire Destroys Metzgar Cottage At Greentown

Greentown—Fire late last night destroyed a cottage belonging to Carl Metzgar, of Rutherford, N. J., which was situated in the Brink Hill section of Greentown.

Discovered by Elbert Heberling, who saw the flames shooting upward from his home across the valley, the fire was out of control within a matter of minutes. The Greene-Dreher Fire Co. responded at 11:20 p.m., but was unable to save the building. Origin of the blaze was not determined.

The Metzgar family had spent the Memorial Day weekend at their cottage. It was unoccupied at the time of the fire, however.

South Dakota Vote Almost A Standoff

By The Associated Press

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, trailing in a South Dakota primary but acclaimed by an army of rooters in the old home town, tests his political skill today in his first no-holds-barred news conference.

Reporters who had swarmed into Abilene, Kan., ahead of Eisenhower were ready with questions designed to nail down exactly where the general stands on issues in one of the hottest campaigns on record.

Even as he was speaking in Kansas, South Dakota was adding up the last few votes from a primary Tuesday that turned out to be practically a standoff between Eisenhower and his No. 1 opponent for the GOP nomination, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft led through most of yesterday, but by a mere fraction of a percentage point. That was enough for his Washington headquarters to stake out a claim to victory and the 14 votes South Dakota will turn in next month at the Republican National Convention.

Taft said in a statement, "I won largely because of the support of the farmers in the strictly agricultural districts. Republican success in 1952 throughout the nation depends on such support. We lost in 1948 because we presented no program and conducted no campaign in the farm districts."

The tally from 1923 of 1,948 precincts gave: Eisenhower delegates, 64,050; Taft, 64,612. The remaining 27 precincts are in isolated areas and no returns were expected before the official count.

In contrast, the Democratic contest was a breeze for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who picked up eight more convention delegates.

The Tennessee senator also picked off 68 more delegates in California, by an easy 2 to 1 win over a stop-Kefauver slate. Gov. Warren rolled up a 2 to 1 edge over a pro-Taft slate to win the California Republican primary.

Reds Kidnap Two Women

Berlin (AP)—Soviet soldiers and East German Communists resorted to Tommy-guns and the kidnapping of two women yesterday in the war of nerves edging on Free Berlin.

A U.S. military policeman on patrol was wounded and the quiet of a disputed cemetery was shattered by the burst of gunfire.

The German women were kidnapped from the British and French sectors last night by mixed squads of Russian soldiers and Communist police.

The first abduction was done by two Russian troopers and four policemen.

They snatched a woman from the Spandau woods, in the British sector, and hustled their screaming victim into the Soviet zone before West Berlin riot police could answer the alarm.

Neighbors said the woman had been living in Eiskeller, a suburb the Russians seized this week.

A few hours later the second German woman was kidnapped from the streets of Hermsdorf, in the French sector, and taken across the boundary. She was hauled off by three Soviet soldiers and three policemen.

Two Fatal Accidents Occur In County Within 3 Hours

Entertainer Killed As Car Rams Truck

Mellhaney — An Atlantic City entertainer was killed and two persons injured when their car collided with a milk truck and burst into flames at the intersection of Routes 209 and 115 here yesterday.

The entertainer, Robert L. Davis, 36, of 15 Indiana Ave., Atlantic City, was thrown clear by the impact and died almost instantly of internal injuries.

The crash took place at 5:50 p.m., less than three hours after a Scotrun boy was injured fatally by a car at Mountainhome.

Brodheads State police said Davis was the driver of the sedan.

The injured:

Bert Jonas, 62, of 246 West End Ave., New York City, a theatrical manager, who was sitting on the right side of the front seat; and Angela Strypek, 35, of 219 W. 48th St., New York City, who was sitting between the two men.

Miss Strypek, a dancer, is known professionally as "Susan Brooks."

She suffered burns on the body, right arm, face, and a possible fractured right shoulder. Jonas suffered a broken left leg, chest injuries, bruises on the left side, hand cuts and shock.

The truck driver, Robert H. Border, 48, Lewisburg, Pa., was operating a tank milk truck owned by T. M. Miles, of Milton, Pa.

Border complained of pain in the shoulders and suffered a cut right hand.

Police said a witness, Al Frantz, Star Route, Brodheads, was driving behind the Davis car as it drove north toward the intersection on Route 115.

Frantz told police the car moved into the intersection without pulling up at the stop sign. Frantz saw the collision take place.

The truck was going west on Route 209. Its front end struck the car squarely in the right side. The impact apparently burst the gas line in the sedan; flaming fuel spattered the area.

Some of it ignited the truck but the driver escaped unaided. Occupants of Chestnut Hill Inn, located directly opposite the intersection, ran outside when they heard the crash.

Border, the truck driver, and John Dieper, bartender at the inn, dashed to the burning sedan and pulled out Jonas and Miss Brooks.

The West End Fire Co. was called from Brodheads to put out the fire.

Dr. L. C. Reese, Brodheads, gave first aid at the scene, then the two injured and the truck driver were taken to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg. Jonas and Miss Brooks were admitted. Border was treated and discharged.

Police said the trio was driving toward Wilkes-Barre to keep a theatrical engagement. Davis had a balancing act.

Coroner W. E. Andrews released the body to Hamm funeral home, Brodheads.

The demolished car was towed to a Brodheads garage. The milk truck, extensively damaged by the crash and by flames, had its tank cracked. Milk leaked over the area.

Fine, Ike To Confer

Pittsburgh (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine said last night he will meet Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at New York Sunday concerning the general's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

In a brief interview with news-men, Fine declared:

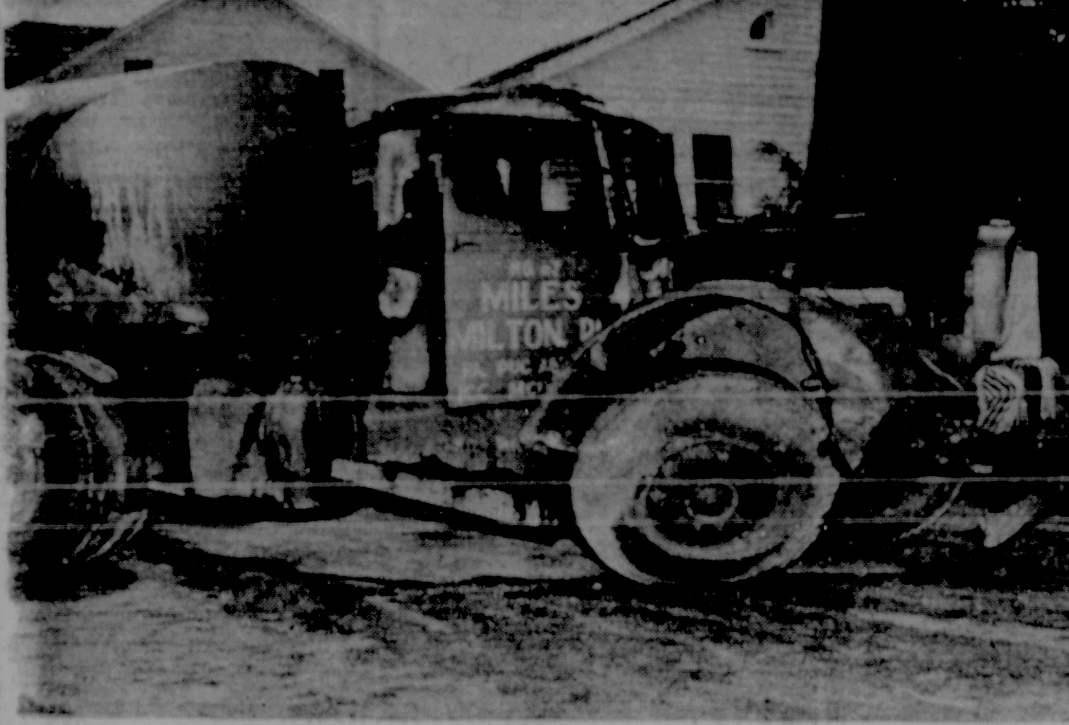

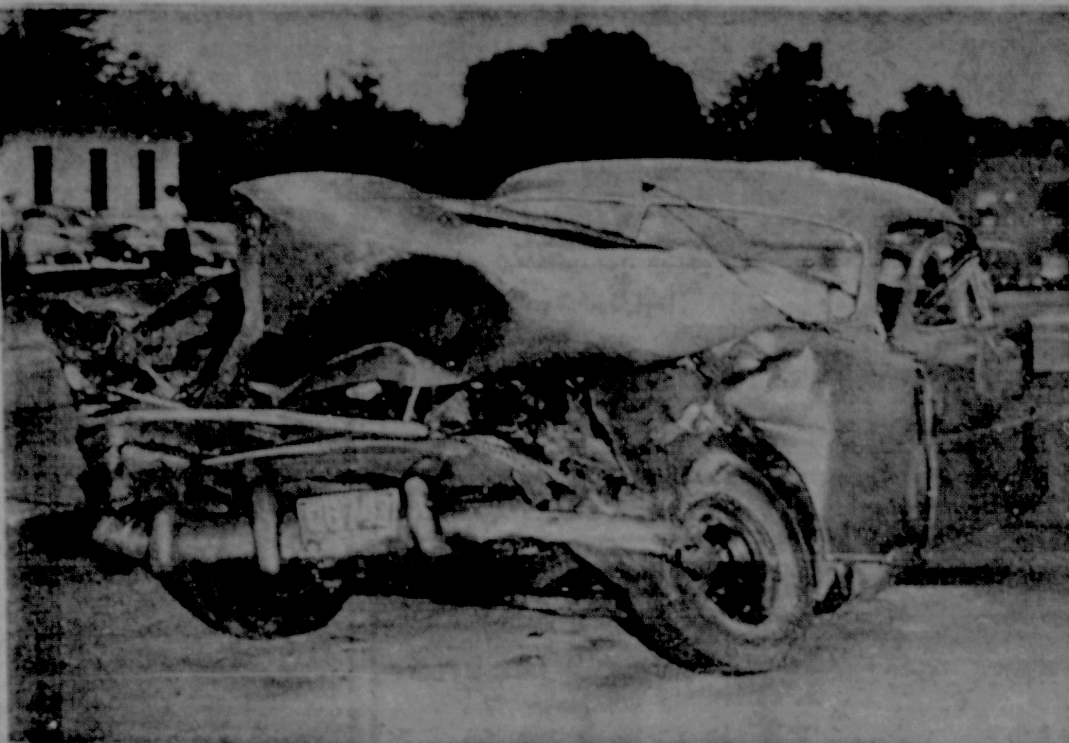

"The general called me from Washington yesterday and I accepted."

Fine told newsmen nearly a month ago that he would meet with Eisenhower to talk politics.

The meeting will follow two others Fine has had with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

MacArthur is supporting Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) for the GOP presidential nomination.

Fine indicated that he will make no immediate decision as to whom he will support at the forth-coming GOP national convention.

SEARED, CRUMPLED METAL resulted when the sedan and milk truck above crashed at a McIlhaney highway intersection yesterday. The driver of the sedan, Robert L. Davis, Atlantic City, entertainer, was killed. Two passengers were injured, one a dancer and the other a theatrical manager. The truck driver suffered minor injuries. The two vehicles burned after flaming gas sprayed from the wrecked sedan. The spot where the wreck occurred, at the junction of Route 115 and 209, has been the scene of a number of fatal accidents over the years. A witness said Davis failed to heed the stop sign. Tank-Supported Infantrymen Cut POW Compound In Half Koje Island, Korea, (AP)—American infantrymen supported by tanks marched into a compound of 3,340 Communist civilian prisoners today and threw up a double barbed wire fence cutting the enclosure in half. There was no resistance.

HST Requests $3 Billion

Washington (AP)—Congress was asked yesterday to supply an additional $3,463,000,000 for defense.

President Truman requested the supplemental appropriation to meet and pay increases granted last month to uniformed personnel, expand the Alaskan communications system and construct military public works.

The original Pentagon budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was $6 billion dollars.

A White House announcement said the amounts requested are 37 million dollars less than tentative estimates submitted to Congress earlier.

Lack of a quorum in the House delayed action on a 970 million dollar bill to provide deficiency funds through June 30 for more than a score of government agencies.

About 400,000 postal employees, as well as other government workers are waiting for passage of the bill to collect overdue pay.

Carry All Counties

Harrisburg (AP)—The official count of Pennsylvania's April 22 primary was completed yesterday, showing that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican, and Sen. Estes Kefauver, Democrat, carried all of the state's 67 counties in the presidential preference contest.

Release Hostages

Raleigh, N. C., (AP)—Some 150 tough convicts at Central Prison released 10 hostages unharmed late yesterday. They had wrung promises from prison officials that a guard captain would be suspended pending an investigation of their claim he mistreated prisoners.

Truman Calls Steel Talks

Washington, (AP)—Congress members aroused by the three-day steel strike locked in hot debate yesterday on proposals to curb big labor walkouts and sharply revise wage stabilization policies.

Top executives of the striking CIO Steelworkers Union and major steel firms meanwhile were called to the White House today for renewed peace talks.

The call to the White House negotiations, quickly accepted by union and industry, came when it appeared the disputants were about to get together on their own, without government aid. The Truman administration thus kept its hand in the tangled situation.

The storm on Capitol Hill was concentrated in the Senate:

One—Sen. Maybank (D-SC) proposed an amendment to provide a 120-day ban on strikes in defense-important industries, with a seven-man board empowered to recommend dispute settlement terms. The government could seize an industry if the board's terms were not accepted.

Two—The Senate voted 42-41—with Vice President Barkley voting to break a 41-41 tie—to retain the present three-way Wage Stabilization Board set-up of public, labor and industry members, but make them subject to Senate confirmation. The WSB's power to handle labor disputes would be restricted.

Under the plan voted by the Senate the WSB could act in disputes only in cases where the union and management agreed to let the WSB step in. Even then it could act only on wage or "economic" matters, not on such issues as the union shop.

Previously the Senate Banking Committee had favored removing the labor and industry members from the WSB, leaving an agency of all public members.

Child Dies When Hit By Auto

Cresco—Frank L. Zuchelli, 2, Scotrun, was killed instantly when struck by a car on Route 90, Mountainhome, at 3:15 p.m. yesterday.

Cpl. Carson Overgard of the Mount Pocono substation said the boy had been playing between some parked cars in front of the Pocono Press and apparently ran into the street.

The car which struck him was driven by J. Roland Fiero, 46, West Palm Beach, Fla., hotel clerk, police said.

Police said Fiero, who had been driving north, stopped his car immediately.

Dr. Lawrence Furlong was called to the scene from Buck Hill Falls. He pronounced the child dead. Coroner W. E. Andrews was also called. He released the body to Lantern funeral home, East Stroudsburg.

The boy and his mother, Mrs. Paulita Zuchelli, had been living at Scotrun with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rhodes, operators of Rhodes Hotel and Coffee Shop there.

The lad was in the care of his grandmother, Mrs. Rhodes, when the accident occurred, police said.

Fiero was charged with involuntary manslaughter at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, Stroudsburg. He was committed to the county jail when he was unable to post $1,500 bail.

Fiero told police he had just arrived from Florida and was looking for a job in the Barrett Township area.

Surviving the child, who was two years and eight months old, are his mother and maternal grandparents; his father, Frank W. Zuchelli, 198 Broad St., Stroudsburg; sister, Camilla, Scotrun; paternal grandmother, Mrs. May Zuchelli, 111, Stroudsburg; maternal great-grandfather, Layton Rhodes, and maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Transue, all of Scotrun.

Mass of the angels will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Mary of the Mount Catholic Church, Mount Pocono, Meigs. C. A. McHugh will officiate. Burial will be in the Stroudsburg Cemetery.

U.N. Request Countered By Red Delegates

Munsan, (AP)—The Reds today asked the United Nations Command to account for 1,014 Communists listed as Allied captives Dec. 18 but missing from a revised list.

The demand countered an Allied request made yesterday for an accounting of nearly 1,000 United Nations troops believed to be Red captives.

The Communist request was made in a letter from the top Red truce delegate to the head of the Allied delegation. It was delivered to Allied liaison officers in a brief meeting before the regular truce session opened today at Panmunjom.

The Allies have maintained that the discrepancy in the two lists was caused by duplication of names and false names given by Red prisoners.

The Reds renewed their attack yesterday on Allied treatment of prisoners of war and threatened once again to unleash their powerful armies in Korea.

Negro Girl Wed To White Youth

Ithaca, N. Y., (AP)—A white youth and a Negro girl, both college graduates, were married yesterday, confident they can overcome any racial obstacles they may face.

Robert McAllester, 23, of Ithaca, whose father formerly was a Congregational missionary in Africa, and Grace Cunningham, 22, of Berkeley, Calif., exchanged vows in a simple Quaker ceremony on the Cornell University campus.

"We will meet each thing as it comes," McAllester said when a reporter asked whether they had considered the obstacles that might arise from an inter-racial marriage.

Invite Fresh Air Children

The week of July 9 will be a great event in the lives of some needy New York City youngsters who come under the wing of that great humanitarian effort of the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund.

How many of these children will thrill to living in the beautiful, rolling green hills of the Poconos depends entirely on how many residents here open their hearts and homes.

This community won an award for its early cooperative efforts with the Fresh Air Children campaigns. Last year citizens invited 66 Fresh Air children to spend two weeks away from the hot, drab city streets.

This newspaper has always heartily endorsed the Fresh Air program because the two weeks these underprivileged youngsters spend here with their Friendly Town neighbors leads them toward a better life.

We are confident the people of Monroe County will not let this opportunity pass to give a record-breaking number of Fresh Air children this opportunity to a brief period of finer life in the finest section of the country.

It is easy to invite them. Use the coupon which runs each day in this newspaper or call Radio Station WVPO. Don't delay this opportunity to give some city youngster the thrill of his or her lifetime and earn a greater thrill for yourself.

Action by the State Highway Department on what is known as a "salvage project" to improve Route 611 between Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap is good, but it can be considered hardly more than a temporary expedient.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—Four Democratic presidential candidates who spoke at a recent convention of the left-wing Americans for Democratic Action were introduced by one of the nation's most notorious Communist frontiers—a man who also has been labeled a World War I draft dodger by a committee of Congress.

President Truman, who describes his duties at the White House as "man killing," also found time away from his work to address the assembled ADA members.

ADA wants to do away with the government's loyalty program and urges repeal of the Smith act, under which numerous Communist party members are now being sent to jail. Mr. Truman did not mention this when he spoke. He chided ADA, however, for its previous support of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president. The general ought to be glad ADA has changed its mind about him.

Roger Baldwin was presiding at the ADA session when W. Averell Harriman, and Senators McMahon of Connecticut, Kefauver of Tennessee and Humphrey of Minnesota were introduced with ruffles and flourishes. All four are Democratic presidential aspirants, and ADA, of course, loves them all, just dandy.

In addition to his membership in ADA, Baldwin also is head of the American Civil Liberties Union. The ACLU devotes about 90 per cent of its money and energy to working in behalf of Communists and has been cited by the California Un-American Activities Committee as a Communist transmission belt.

Baldwin also has been officially listed as either a member or sponsor of the following Communist fronts:

American Friends of Spanish Democracy; Russian Reconstruction Farms, Inc., which was directed by Harold Ware, founder of the Alger Hiss-Lee Pressman Communist cell in the Department of Agriculture; Mother Ella Bloor birthday banquet in 1936; Anti-American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born; New York Tom Mooney Committee; Prisoner's Relief Fund of the International Labor Defense; North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy; American Youth Congress; The American Student Union, and, to save space, at least seven more.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

The Voice of America

Senator Pat McCarran addressed a question to the Secretary of State on the subject of the propaganda this country is doing among the enemy, both as to the media employed. The State Department answered and a document has been issued.

Frankly, it is all puzzling as to what effect, if any, our propaganda is having upon those countries to which it is being beamed. Senator McCarran writes in his introduction:

"In Russia we ought constantly to remind the masses of the people of their long struggle for freedom and justice. We should quote to them not from our Washington and Lincoln and Jefferson but from their Herzen and Turgenev and Gorki. We should hold up as heroes and models the really idealistic leaders of the pre-Soviet era who fought against tyranny and injustice—thus we would be appealing to a national tradition of revolt against despots."

I am not so sure that Senator McCarran's answer is better than the State Department's. The movement to revolution is always intellectual and spiritual. No great revolution in history is a response to hunger, to the deprivation of material advantages.

The explosion always is a product of the insistence of young minds for greater freedom of expression. Would a French Revolution have occurred without the preparation of the minds of young men by Rousseau, Voltaire and the Encyclopedists?

I personally saw and heard most of the founders of the Russian Revolution. On one occasion, I saw most of them in one room. These were no peasants and workers. They were intellectuals. Lenin, Trotsky, Tsereteli, Chernov, Kerensky, Plekhanov, Kolontai, of whatever party, they were intellectuals, concerned with the intricacies of the human spirit.

Wherever the Communists have established themselves they have devoted themselves to the task of changing the minds of men, of re-creating their philosophy of life. In each country after they take control, they have made Christianity their target—a hateful target to be destroyed and obliterated from the memory of men.

Why have they done this? It is no accident that they do not delay their war on Christianity and Judaism. They set that target because freedom, the liberty of the individual man, the basic doctrine of the Old and New Testaments, menaces their concept of the control of man in the interest of the state dominated by a self-perpetuating intellectual elite.

Mao Tze-tung in China goes the way of Stalin. He is not a peasant, although he often poses as one. I recall him back in 1918 or 1919 at the Peking National University as a student of philosophy under Dr. Hu Shih, whom he now denounces as a reactionary.

As I read what the State Department offers these countries as American propaganda, I am sure that it cannot succeed because it is too low-brow. It lacks philosophic content. If we dare not speak of God, of Natural Law, as the foundation of our politics and economics and social institutions, we actually have nothing to say that is important.

Measuring this pragmatically, we have not been successful in developing a vocal, articulate pro-American element in any Soviet country, whereas Soviet Russia has succeeded in building an effective pro-Russian force in every free country, including the United States.

To this task, we have devoted billions of dollars and have no evidence of a ripple on the surface. Senator Pat McCarran wisely asks questions, but what is really needed is an understanding of why we have failed.

Look at this excerpt from something called "shirttail No. 197": "Just how much is forty-two and a half thousand million dollars—the amount spent by the United States in foreign aid programs since the end of World War II?"

"For one thing, it is equal to $283 for every man, woman and child in the country."

"And thus, as you see, Americans are taking their relations with the rest of the world seriously. They have been sending abroad a week's pay a year—or the equivalent of what that will buy—for every American man, woman, and child."

Certainly this does not tell Asiatic anything important. An Asiatic wants to know what an American believes about man's relations to man, not that each sends $283 abroad.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

The editor of a weekly news magazine sent his young daughter to camp last summer for the first time. Every letter (three from July 1 to Aug. 20) that she mailed home concluded with "Goodbye for now." Her pop finally wrote and told her how to spell "now." Her next letter wound up with "I'm glad you told me how to spell 'now.' I'll now better from know on."

"Gentlemen," boomed the senator from North Dakota, "allow me to tax your memories." "Gosh," muttered the senator from Utah, "Why didn't we ever think of that before?"

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—A lot of Southern California radio listeners do their waking up to the cheerful chatter of an ex-fighter pilot named Ralph Story. Even when he's complaining, as he does occasionally, Ralph is cheerful and amusing.

He grips at having to rise at 4:45 a. m. to be on the air at 5:25 . . . or at being unable to see the weather, whose forecasts he gives, from his windowless studio. He airs his personal problems: A next-door spring that has undermined his house . . . an inaccessible, burned-out light bulb in his front hall.

They send him about 75 letters a day—many more when there's a commercial come-on or he has said something controversial. Once he remarked, after playing a Mario Lanza record, "That boy's got a fine voice, but he needs a lot of training."

There was a deluge of postcard complaints. Sprinkled in were a few endorsements of Ralph's opinion. "It's taken a year," Ralph says, "but the votes in favor of Lanza needing more training are now ahead."

Story is 5' tall and handsome, with blue eyes and spectacles. He was born 31 years ago in Kalamazoo, Michigan. After part-time announcing at Western Michigan College, he worked in radio stations in Grand Rapids, Detroit, Buffalo, and New York City. In World War II he flew 63 Mustang missions over Europe. His two-hour morning broadcast on KNX, the CBS outlet, is in its fourth year.

The Trumans

"At Abilene"

The scene is the White House during the afternoon telecast. President and Mrs. Truman are about to tune in.

Harry: As a true Democrat I hate to do this, but here goes.

Bess: What do you suppose I will talk about?

Harry: He said the afternoon speech would just be something to mark the laying of a museum cornerstone. But the video stations wouldn't go to all this trouble over a museum even if Milton Berle were dedicating it, unless there was something more to it.

Bess: What's the general doing in a museum?

Harry: That's where anybody belongs who could have run as a Democrat and prefers to run as a Republican these days. Somebody said it was a museum of ancient art.

Bess: Pictures of America the last time it had a Republican president, I assume. Didn't he give you any idea what he would say in his speech?

Harry: Does Macy tell Gimbels?

Voice: Ladies and gentlemen, this is Abilene, a typical American small town. Up to now few of you have heard much about it. Today it becomes a Number One town in America. Millions will now come to know Abilene and its people. This is NOT a political meeting!

Harry: Wanna bet?

Voice: We are not assembled here in the interest of any party, group or personality.

Harry: Tune out, Bess. We can hear smarter lines than that on the comedy programs even if they ain't quite so funny.

Voice: We are gathered here to lay the cornerstone of a museum made possible by our favorite family, and some favorite reau, Monica Lewis, Mae Murray, John Charles Thomas, and Composes Jay Livingston and Ray Evans. Cartoonists Virgil Partch and Al Johns have sent him their conceptions of his looks, judging from his voice.

Harry: If this is inactive status I'm a poor judge of animation.

Harry: Boy, you ain't seen nuthin yet.

Ike: I accept this ceremony as a country town's portrayal of neighborliness. It is a community gathering at which I have the honor to be a guest. It has no real political significance.

Phone Company At Pocono Lake Installs New Dial Equipment

Switchover Scheduled For June 9

Pocono Lake—The subscribers of the Blakeslee and Fern Ridge Telephone Co., serving over 400 telephones throughout this region of the Pocono Mountains, will be furnished with the latest and most modern type of automatic or dial telephone service starting at 10 p.m., June 9.

Franklin Smith, president and manager of the company, said yesterday there has been complete replacement of every telephone, including 30 pay stations, as well as the central office equipment.

A new building, adjacent to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith which has been used as the telephone exchange, has been erected to house the business office and the new automatic equipment.

Smith said total cost of the conversion was approximately $82,000. The installations include both local and long distance equipment. The new "board" installation alone cost some $26,000.

The "cut-over" ceremonies at Pocono Lake exchange will be attended by representatives of the township, civic leaders of the region, representatives of nearby municipalities, officials of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and others.

Mr. Smith said yesterday that little remains of the equipment of the company which existed when he purchased the utility serving the northeastern portion of Monroe County in March of 1943.

One of the major improvements recently added to the system was six miles of storm-proof cable stretching to Blakeslee, eliminating "open" wire which stands at the mercy of the elements and consequently is always a potential hazard to top service.

During the past several years, the Blakeslee and Fern Ridge Telephone Company has shown a station increase of approximately 300 percent. It actually outgrew its facilities with the result improvements were made to meet the growth, Smith said.

The president expressed confidence that the region will continue to expand.

Smith said he handled the modernization program with Public Utility Commission authorization to use five per cent cumulative preferred stock in the amount of $15,000 in shares of $100 each in August, 1951. First offer of this stock was made to subscribers.

The company was chartered Feb. 7, 1907. Stockholders were largely local to the region it serviced, one of them being A. E. (Bert) Herrick of Pocono Lake.

Mr. Herrick took over control and operation of the company in 1915. He continued its operation with many improvements to meet demands of an expanding community until 1943, when Mr. Smith assumed ownership.

Smith had been with the Bell Telephone Co. for 20 years in the plant department before he purchased the Blakeslee and Fern Ridge Telephone Co. Ten of those years he served in Stroudsburg.

Recently, he was elected vice president of the Independent Telephone Companies of Pennsylvania, an organization representing some 1,200 independent companies in the state and with a national membership of 6,300 independent companies.

The program was marked by two outstanding addresses by Jane Bowman, salutatorian, and Thomas Jones, valedictorian.

Miss Bowman, discussing "Education—A Sound Investment," said as graduates "we are stockholders in education. No one can forfeit this investment. It is ours, and year by year the dividends will grow."

Using as his theme "A New Justice," Mr. Jones said "that which is founded on greed, on cruelty, on impatience, on hatred and intolerance must go by the board because it leads only to bloody strife."

"We must have the charming side of the picture and words which describe this picture are charity, kindness, patience, love and forbearance—five beautiful words that form a foundation for a new justice that will bring about a happy world..."

The school band participated in exercises with processional and recessional. Rev. Ralph H. Feltham gave the invocation. The school's mixed chorus sang two selections.

Walter Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, spoke. Graduates were presented by Principal Lawrence Wile and diplomas given by Dr. Edward Horn, president of the school board.

Thomas Jones, class president, made the class gift to the school.

Bronx Bird Goes AWOL In Poconos

If you're strolling along any of the avenues in the Stroudsburg today and hear a strange voice call "Hello" from the tree tops above—don't be alarmed. That'll be Petie.

Petie is a fascinating parakeet with a limited vocabulary who packed up his "Hello" over the weekend and took off.

A Bronx, N. Y., couple spending the weekend at Paradise Place cabins on Star Route, East Stroudsburg, own the bird, a small species of parrot. Seamus Petie flew the coop when his owner left the cage blue and white bird's cage open.

Peter Parakeet gave his Bronx boss the neighborhood cheer, uttered the only word he knows, "Hello," and sailed out of sight.

So—if the familiar salutation should come your way don't brush Petie off as "some fresh guy." Phone Stroudsburg 1758 and Petie, his "Hello" and his adventure can all be tucked back into the same cage again.

Skim Milk Prices Drop

Harrisburg, (AP)—Producer prices for animal skim milk were dropped to 30 cents a hundredweight (46 1/2 quarts) in 10 Pennsylvania milk marketing areas yesterday.

The State Milk Control Commission said the reduction affects all areas but Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Erie.

Present prices for animal skim (skim not used for human consumption) in the 10 areas range from 61 to 64 cents a hundred-weight.

The commission said the reduction was made necessary by what it termed a "temporary and abnormally large surplus of skim milk."

It added that dealers protested at a recent hearing they were being deluged with milk from producers and paying for skim they could not use.

It added that no price reductions were made for the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Erie areas because no dealers from those sections appeared to lodge complaints.

Newark Driver Lies Helpless Along Highway Several Hours After Car Hits Utility Pole

Sayderville—A Newark, N. J., sailor told police he lay helpless for several hours after his car hit a telephone pole on Route 12 near here at 4 a. m. yesterday.

Brodheadsville troopers listed the driver as John Patciak, 20, who said he was driving east at the time.

Patciak told police he was thrown from his coupe by the impact and lay by the side of the road until he was seen by a passing truck driver, Fred Cong, Scranton.

Cong got the sailor back on his feet, according to Patciak, and reported the accident to police about 6:30 a. m. Patciak said he did not need medical attention.

An estimated $600 damage was done to the front end of his coupe.

Trees Subject To Harm While Home Is Built

Owners of new houses are warned to see that earth or building materials are not piled high around trunks or over roots of shade trees. Trees are suffocated by these materials or by the packed earth. In either case, the air supply to roots is cut off. Like almost all living things, roots need air.

Changing the soil level is one of the prime reasons trees decline and succumb. Trucks or a dozen tramping of workers' feet may pack the soil so hard that air cannot penetrate.

Other practices that may spell disaster for fine shade trees are spilling paint, mortar and other chemicals over root areas. Cables tied about trunks in building operations also may girdle trees and cause their death. A carefully operated bulldozer that scrapes protective bark can seriously injure trees.

In many cases, home sites are selected because of the desirable trees. If they are destroyed, the owner loses the comfort and beauty of their presence and must pay for their removal.

Garden Chores Of The Week

If there are empty spaces in the rose beds, they may be filled even this late in the season with pot-grown roses, which are still available in the seed stores. They should be planted without disturbing the roots.

To prevent rain from splashing soil on ripening strawberries, place a mulch of pine needles, hay or straw around the plants.

Cut off the faded flower heads of azaleas, rhododendrons, laurel, lilacs, and other plants with large seed heads. This not only makes the plants look neater but it conserves energy which otherwise goes into the ripening of seed.

Keep up a regular program of spraying for leaf-eating insects, use arsenate of lead; for sucking insects, black leaf 40. For diseases, a fungicide will be needed. Combined insecticides and fungicides, which do a pretty good job, are available.

If you're growing sweet peas, provide brush or poultry wire for them to climb on.

Privet hedges may be clipped now to the desired height. Old hedges that are overgrown may be cut close to the ground. A little fertilizer raked into the soil will stimulate new growth.

Plant balcony petunias, geraniums, fuchsias or other annuals in the window boxes.

Weed Killers May Do Harm To Plants

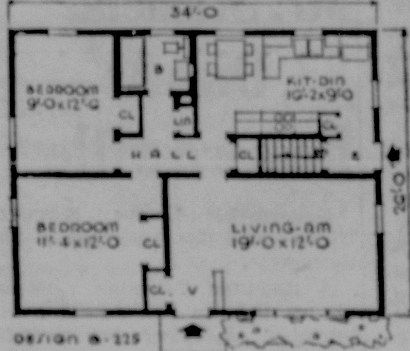

Despite adequate warnings now printed on packages of 2, 4-D weed killers, some gardeners become careless and allow these sprays to drift onto nearby trees and shrubs. Following the directions on the label will do much to avoid injury to desirable plants growing near lawns treated with 2, 4-D. Once a sprayer has been used to apply 2, 4-D to lawns, it should not be used for regular garden spraying until it and the hose and nozzles have been thoroughly cleaned.

One of the best materials for removing all traces of 2, 4-D in the spray tank is diluted household ammonia solution. Fill the tank with hot water containing one-third cup of household ammonia to each gallon and allow to stand overnight.

Awnings Cut Expense, Work

Save the work and expense of laundering curtains and draperies by eliminating them completely from the child's room. Instead, hang short dark green awnings with scalloped edges above each window and door.

Paint the ceiling the same shade and extend this color down the walls a few inches in the form of scallops to match the awning scallops. Paint the walls and woodwork a washable pastel green.

Save Time, Money When Reroofing Your Building

Here are a few pointers that will save time and money for the homeowner faced with reroofing of his property.

First determine if a new roof can be laid over the old one. If so, you can save on labor costs.

Any standard weight material can usually be put over an old roof. Decide whether it's to be wood, asbestos shingles or slate, and then see your roofing contractor or dealer.

Repair and replace all loose, curled and missing shingles on the old roof. Cut away two inches along roof edges and replace with new wood—this gives a solid base for roof nails, and results in a better finish.

If you choose shingles, lay them the usual way. Use zinc-coated or copper nails. They will last longer and should be long enough to pass through the old roof into the roof boards. Cut nails hold best. For

Here's How To Test Plumbing

The plumbing system constitutes a vital working part of a house, but because it is largely concealed behind walls and under floors, most prospective home buyers are at a loss to check its efficiency.

Actually, a few simple tests will reveal the condition of any home's plumbing almost as clearly as X-raying would. Here are pointers on the subject for prospective buyers:

1. To check whether pipes are of sufficient size, leave the water running full force in the kitchen and turn it on at the same time in the bathroom. There should not be a marked reduction in the flow.

2. Check fixtures to see whether they are chipped or scratched. Fixtures in color cost more and therefore are usually the mark of a better quality house.

3. To save redecorating costs, be sure that bathroom floors and walls are finished with waterproof materials. Since it is moistureproof and permanent in color, clay tile is one of the most satisfactory of all materials for baths.

4. The water-heater or hot-water storage tank should have the label of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, an indication of its safety. Homes having automatic laundry equipment need a 50-gallon tank for an automatic storage heater with gas as a fuel.

5. Test the condition of pipes by filling wash basins and bathtub with water. If the water is rusty, pipes are in poor condition.

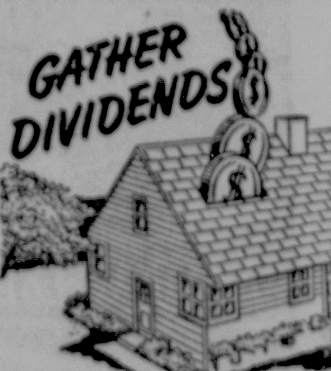

6. Drop a cigaret in the bowl of the water closet and then flush it. It should flush completely and refill quietly.

Inspection of Shower Equipment

7. Check finishes in shower stalls and on walls around shower fixtures.

8. Inspect sinks, wash basins and bathtub for rust stains. They indicate leaky faucets, and you may have not only to repair faucets but also replace the damaged fixtures.

Lay Out New House With Care

Like choosing the best mate for life, building and planning the best home is an individual matter.

Everybody's tastes differ—what pleases one person can appear insipid to another. But one rule is basic: All successful houses are designed from the inside out, according to home economists.

A prospective home builder's first requirement is to know what he or she really wants. Here are some principles of good planning, taken from a Tile Council of America report, that will help the home builder, start right.

1. Site planning: House should be well related to the street. Provide parking space, inviting entrance and well-laid-out garden.

2. Orient the home: Face it (in relation to compass points) to enjoy sun and breeze, protection against winter wind.

3. Livability: Plan flexible, double-duty use of rooms. A utility-playroom with walls and floor of rugged material is ideal for the kids' active games and sensible for the homemaker's laundering and sewing chores. A study-bedroom is an escape for the adults who want solitude.

4. Plan comfort: Have plenty of daylight, ventilation in every room. Accident-free stairs, doors and floors are plan essentials.

5. Include easy maintenance: In kitchen, baths and recreation room which are used constantly install waterproof, easy-to-clean material for wall and floor surfaces. Dirt, dust and water can be cleaned in a jiffy with a damp mop.

6. Insulation: An insulated home works year round by taking the chill out of home in winter, reduces drafts and stuffiness in rooms and lowers fuel bills.

7. Plan for the future: A plan that provides for future changes and expansion will mean less expense later.

Remove All Dead Flowers

Dead flowers should be removed from azaleas and particularly from the large flowering rhododendrons to prevent the drain of seed bearing and to promote growth for summer. Be sure that there is an ample leaf mulch around the base of the plants. This should be added to several times a season and never disturbed. These plants will root in the decaying leaves and get most of their food from the mulch instead of from the roots in mineral soil.

Haste May Spoil Job

Concrete takes several days to set properly. If the forms are removed a day or two after pouring, the results may be disappointing. The forms should be kept on a week, just to play safe.

William Nelson, president of the eighth grade, was recipient of the duplicate award for a male student sponsored by the American Legion and presented by Harry Hoffman.

The Smithfield PTA Music Committee Award was given to Daniel Marvin. Eugene Plaza was declared "outstanding athlete" of the school and winner of a special award in that category.

Members of the graduating class who received certificates, were: Nina L. In addition to class speeches and a principal address by John C. Litts, county superintendent, Smithfield instrumental and vocal music groups contributed to the program.

Following the "Coronation March" processional the audience and members of the graduating class joined in singing "America."

A cornet trio, consisting of Daniel Marvin, Eugene Plaza and Gary Lewis played "Home on the Range"; Peter Westbrook gave a bass solo performance of "In the Gloaming"; Phillis Hartmann and Sharon Shutter collaborated in a clarinet duet; Betty Lou Owens played a piano solo, "Melody in F"; Rosemary Pappalardo and Florence Smith played a horn duet version of "Sun of My Soul."

PP&L Report Wins Award

Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. yesterday won its second first-place award for its 1951 annual report.

The award, the 30th which the local utility has won over the past seven years was gained in the Reddy Kilowatt annual report contest open to all business-managed electric light and power concerns throughout the world. President Charles E. Oakes, of PP&L, accepted the award in Cleveland at the Edison Electric Institute's 20th annual convention.

PP&L previously won the Reddy Kilowatt first prize in 1948 and had honorable mentions in 1945, 1946, 1949 and 1950. They also won six certificates in contests sponsored by Financial World.

Recently the report was cited by the Public Utilities Advertising Association.

Lights, Shadows Affect Colors

Light and shadow have a definite effect on the colors that are combined in a room's decoration. Because the wall area that surrounds windows is in shadow, it appears darker than the walls on which the light from the window falls. Decorators sometimes have window walls painted in lighter tint to compensate for this condition.

Sanity Gives Way To Frenzy As SHS Seniors Stage 'Ten Nights In A Psychiatric Ward'

Organized pandemonium was the key phrase last night as Stroudsburg High School seniors presented their annual "class day" exercises in the school auditorium.

Working under the general theme of "Ten Nights In A Psychiatric Ward," the seniors proceeded to make levity of insanity.

The main body of the program was written by four seniors — Myron Feinsilber, Bernardine Hasara, Jack Howitt and Elizabeth Smith.

Howitt also served as narrator for the proceedings which included such dramatic episodes as "Jelly's Folly or Beat Feet" with Arthur Jolowsky, in which the protagonist's feet were victimized by several supporting cast-members and "Stark Raving Mad or Cough Up the Money Sonny" with Bernardine Hasara.

Other participants in the dramatic portion of the program included Feinsilber and Shirley Muller.

The "Psychic Sextette"—consisting of Barbara Compton, Joan Charlton, Patty Darling, Betty Clugston, Dorothy Hauser and Nora Pipher—also contributed to the program.

In charge of the class property were Lynne Slaboski, Jack Ifit, Dale Kern, Renee Johnson and Eugene Anglemeyer.

Pauline Repsher and Bill Banka handled the class will. Elizabeth Smith was the author of the class poem and the class song was directed by its composer, Harriette Garaventi. Kathryn Ann Hickey served as accompanist.

The theme of the program was a parody of the school's much-publicized endowment through the codicil of a will left by the late Samuel Schoonover.

The codicil stipulated the school must "at all times have on hand" ten copies of Timothy

Shay Arthur's temperance classic, "Ten Nights In A Bar-room."

Berryman Rites Held Yesterday

Burial was at Stroudsburg cemetery. Pallbearers were Walter Shumaker, William G. Woolever, Isaac Dunlap, Edward B. Kautz, Carl M. Kautz and Emmett Fish.

Barn Struck By Lightning And Destroyed

Portland—The fire department here joined companies from Mt. Bethel and Blairstown, N. J. on a long ten-mile run along the Delaware River road to Millbrook, N. J. early last night where they battled a barn fire.

Struck by lightning, the structure was completely destroyed. A new garden tractor and light farm truck were also burned.

Firemen said the barn was on a property occupied during the summer by Mrs. Mary Kulman.

The home was far enough from the barn to escape danger. Firemen used water in booster tanks and replenished their supply from a nearby spring.

They said the property was unoccupied. First reports on the fire came from neighbors.

Essential To Growth

A good supply of both humus and a complete garden fertilizer are essential to the successful growth of any garden crop.

Telephone People

You often hear people say, "He's a telephone man." Or "She's a telephone girl." And just by the way they say it, you can tell it's a compliment. There are good reasons why people generally feel that way. The telephone business is concerned almost entirely with giving service to the public. Telephone people quickly develop a spirit of helpfulness and a courteous attitude toward others, not only "on the job," but in their personal affairs as well.

EVERYDAY MIRACLE

Ps AND Qs

An 8-year-old schoolgirl, caught in a downpour, calls to ask that the family car come to her rescue. A farmer picks up his telephone, orders for immediate delivery the new part he needs for his tractor. A home telephone rings, and the housewife accepts an invitation to needed relaxation at a luncheon. Truly, the telephone is so much a part of our daily lives we seldom stop to consider what a marvelous thing it is—or what we'd ever do without it.

When your telephone rings, do you answer it quickly as possible? And when you make a call, are you patient while waiting for the party to answer? If so you're doubly right. Be Patient when calling, be Quick to answer when it's your telephone that rings. These Ps and Qs of telephone courtesy will keep many a call from being lost. They'll save you the trouble of making these calls all over again. And they'll save you... and others... the bother of answering a call after the party has hung up.

Mrs. Swaine To Receive Barrett Twp. Appreciation Award At June 18 Dinner

Mountainhome—The Barrett Township Appreciation Award is to be given to Mrs. Joseph Swaine, nee Lena French, at a 7 p. m. June 18 dinner at Onawa Lodge here.

Each year this award is made by the various service clubs of Barrett Township to some citizen who, in their opinion, is deserving of special mention for their service to the community.

The first award was given to George Lester last year. Mr. Lester has been a teacher in Barrett schools for many years and has been a friend and counselor, as well as teacher, to three generations of the populace in the township.

Mrs. Swaine has been a resident of the township all her life, other than the years she spent in her training as a nurse. The service club memberships have agreed that she has served her community long and well in the capacity of nurse, neighbor and friend.

This entire region is invited to join Barrett citizens in paying tribute to one of their outstanding citizens. Reservations may be made directly with Onawa Lodge on or before June 16, or tickets may be purchased from members of these participating organizations.

Barrett Women's Club, Barrett High School Alumni Association, American Legion Auxiliary, POS of A. American Legion, Rotary Club, Lions Club PTA and PO of A.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

"Engraved on our hearts—" sing the young voices in their alma mater at graduation times, and unless it's quite made of stone, your heart twists within you.

You see, they mean what they're singing and saying. Oh I know they aren't always as angelic as they look up there on the platform, and they don't always live up to those high sentiments they're voicing.

But right then, if you could have them cast in bronze, just so, they might stand as statuary, symbolizing youth and its dreams all over this nation each June time.

The next moment, they're wriggling and pushing and tripping over feet still several sizes too large, and the lump in your throat goes down to a size where you can swallow again.

As a matter of fact there are times during a graduation program when you stop breathing all together. You can always pick out the parents of the child who's currently performing by a certain death-like trance that comes upon them.

Few, however, actually turn purple in the face, which is what we were doing during Fete's tuba solo, trying to help him blow. Star of the ceremony, however, was the one little boy who wasn't there. Clayton Lyons, spending graduation night in the hospital, should know how very much he was present in everybody's heart.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Stopped by Stock Control yesterday to exchange a bit of shop talk with Betty Bartholomew and Dotie Dunn, and accidentally touched the adding machine. Suddenly it was off on one of its frequent rampages, the keys clicking merrily away as some unseen accountant took my number. By the time it could be jiggled and giggled into silence, I had an impressive score of 999,999,967. But on which side of the ledger? . . . Yesterday when I admired a friend's sport jacket, he looked amazed. "THIS? It's the coat from a suit I bought at least four years ago at Wyckoff's". That's just about the best commercial I've ever heard in behalf of Wyckoff quality and smartness.

. . . A letter from a woman residing in Mount Royal, Maryland, requesting the price of Defiance flags, reminds me that Flag Day is little more than a week away on Saturday, June 14th. As mentioned over the air, Wyckoff's has a splendid assortment of flags, from the tiny ones on sticks at 25c to those for use on flag poles. There are cotton bunting flags and silk flags, some to be hung on walls in school rooms and lodge halls. One thing I like particularly about summer is the number of summer camps with their flag poles flinging Old Glory to the breeze beneath a sunny sky. I call THAT beautiful!

. . . It's good to see Blanche Mackey back in our electrical appliance department after far too long away. Tanned and as cheery as ever, no one would ever dream she'd been ill. Incidentally, Blanche is one of the experts scheduled to participate in our radio quiz panel on Friday morning at 9:30. Hope you'll be listening! . . . Wyckoff's department heads prepared for the rush season at a breakfast meeting on Tuesday morning, at which time Mr. Ernest Wyckoff led the group in singing birthday greetings to John Neipert. As head of our receiving room, John sees all Wyckoff merchandise even before it appears on the counters—quite a job these busy days. . . . Here's an item of particular interest to you women who have been wondering whatever happened to low priced bras. They're back, better than ever both in construction and appearance, and only 59c. These bras are really lovely—I can say that sincerely—and are available in white satin in sizes 32 to 36, A cup, B cup, in the same size range, comes in rayon, satin, or cotton, in your choice of black, white, or light blue. . . . Prices like these are so low as to be almost unbelievable. Why not come in and see for yourself? . . . You've heard of "The Man on the Flying Trapeze". But have you heard of the woman who walks on clouds in her super TRAMPEZE? I have my foot in it right now, and it's the most eager-to-please shoe I've ever worn. Three guesses where I bought it!

38 Pupils Receive Diplomas At Eighth Grade Graduation

Portland—Thirty-eight grade pupils of the local school, participating in commencement exercises in the school auditorium last night, heard Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church stipulate a five-point program to follow in future endeavors.

"Stars for Your Wagon," title of Rev. Eaton's address, stressed that students make the best of things as they find them; look for the best in people; do the best and in the proper manner and finally "be your best."

The program opened with the traditional procession "Pomp and Circumstance" by the school band. Invocation was delivered by Rev. Elias Jones, pastor of Portland and Beakleyville charges of the Baptist Church.

Selection was presented by a brass quintet composed of John Bach, Maryann Williams, Jack Bellis, Jean Stine and Gary VanVorst.

The band entertained with several other selections, directed by Willard Wolff and the eighth grade choral group sang several numbers.

Ernest R. Courtney, principal made the presentation of awards and honors and Harry Bellis, school board president awarded diplomas.

Bernice Kirchhofer of Mt. Bethel received the award of the Parent Teacher Association for the highest scholarship. Presentation was by Mrs. John Ribble, PTA president.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Harry Schaeffer, former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos and a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, dropped this column a letter yesterday to inform us that he's well contented at Kansas City and currently is supporting a mound record of two victories and the same number of setbacks. Harry was out of condition upon reporting to Kansas City, having done nothing but pitch batting practice with the Yankees, and lost his first two appearances in the American Association. However, the big southpaw has come back to win his next two trips to the rubber.

Schaeffer sends his regards to all his friends in this area and is hopeful of returning to the big time. Harry was a member of the Yankees until the middle of May, when he was optioned to Kansas City, an "AAA" farm of the Bronx Bombers. Speaking of Schaeffer brings to mind that there is a bit of good news about another former member of the Poconos, namely Jack Rothenhauser, who is now playing the outfield for Frank Radler, at Union City, Tenn., of the class "D" Kitty League.

Rothenhauser stroked out a pair of triples in his first game with the Union City club, then came back the next day with two home runs. Jack followed this showing with nine hits in nine times at bat, over a weekend span of three games. Included in the perfect nine-for-nine mark was everything from a single to a home run. Rothenhauser was hitting .385 prior to the nine-for-nine show. Deane Martling, first string catcher for Union City and former receiver for the Poconos and second baseman for Pocono A. C., missed two games recently when a thrown ball took a bad hop and knocked out a front tooth and loosened a couple of others. Six stitches were required to repair the damage.

Radler, former manager of the Poconos and a Monroe County resident, is reportedly set to take his regular turn on the mound once again, after missing several turns because of arm trouble. Sherwood Lessig, former Pen Argyl High mound star, is featuring a record of three wins and one setback for Union City. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd "Junior" Warner are visiting the Radlers in Union City at the present time. The Warners are residents of W. Main St.

West End A. C., an entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, is currently in the middle of a youth movement, which finds the club putting more of the local talent to work, rather than importing it from Stroudsburg. However, the Stroudsburg players now with the club are expected to stick, so as to add balance to the club which soon hopes to launch a winning streak in league competition. Jim Correll was recently named pilot of the club and hopes to turn in a successful rebuilding campaign, with youth playing the key part in the program.

Correll, Elmer Bonser and John "Whitey" Zurner are only three of the Stroudsburg players who figure to play important roles in the new setup. However, many members of this season's Chestnut Hill High School nine will fill important positions with the West End club during the present campaign. George Metropoulos, athletic director at the Monroe County YMCA, announced yesterday that the tennis courts are in good condition at the Y and are inviting the local tennis gentry to play on them during the coming Summer months.

The East Stroudsburg Little League will feature a Tag Day program tomorrow and Saturday, with the hopes of covering the entire borough of East Stroudsburg. Any person giving the league a donation will be entitled to wear one of the East Stroudsburg Little League tags. Each of the players will be presented with a can tonight, in which to collect his money tomorrow and Saturday. The circuit's opening day ceremonies and game were a huge success on Tuesday, but the newly constructed Little League park was the center of very favorable conversation.

Capt. Ray Davies, former star baseball and basketball performer at Tobyhanna Township High School and outstanding soccer player at ESSC, was one of the most favorably impressed people among the large crowd at the East Stroudsburg Little League contest on Tuesday. Ray reports that the Japanese children of the same age, from eight-to-12, are almost fanatical over baseball. Davies is currently rounding out a full-tough of 30 days at his East Stroudsburg home, after two years abroad, most of which was spent in Korea. Ray, who now has 11 years in the service, is headed for Camp Pickett, Va., next week.

Bernie Clemens, East Stroudsburg service station operator, and his crew are busy working on the former's new stock car in order to have it ready for tomorrow's action at Bone Stadium, in Pittston. The car, driven by Bill "Flip" Bennett, Seranton, recently developed serious motor trouble on the same track and is being replaced for tomorrow's grind.

Allentown Rallies To Tie Pen Argyl

Tilt Halted By Darkness After 11 Frames

Pen Argyl—Pen Argyl and Allentown High schools battled to a 5-5 stalemate here at Weona Park yesterday in a District 11 PIAA playoff game that was halted after 11 thrilling innings by darkness. The contest will be replayed tomorrow, at 5 p.m., on a field to be announced today.

Allentown was forced to come up with four big runs in the top of the seventh inning to gain the victory, battering starter Vern Shaplin from the box in that frame in favor of Jack Smith, who pitched shutout ball the remainder of the distance. A light rain fell off and on during the contest.

Although the Canaries opened the scoring with a singleton in the top of the first with a triple by Lou Kemmerer and a throwing error by center fielder Zanette, Pen Argyl dominated the early portion of the contest.

Good Start
The green and white color bearers blasted George Erie, who entered the game with four wins and no defeats, for three runs in the first and one more in the second. However, Dick Klinesmith took over in the third and gave up only one counter in the sixth, while fanning 15, during the remaining nine innings.

Although both teams have agreed to play the game tomorrow, the field to be used remains a question mark, although the problem will be settled sometime today.

The fields under consideration last night were Bangor High school, Moravian Field, in Bethlehem, or March Field, Lafayette's home baseball diamond, in Easton.

Charles Favored Over Walcott For Title

By Jack Hand
Philadelphia, (AP)—Favored Exard Charles defies ring legend tonight at Municipal Stadium in his bid to become the first former heavyweight boxing champion to regain the crown.

Standing squarely in his path is 38-year-old Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N.J., making the first defense of the title he won by knocking out Charles on a seventh round knockout last July.

After a slow start, interest mounted in the fourth match of the Walcott-Charles "series." Promoter Herman Taylor now predicts a crowd of 35,000 and a gate of $250,000, plus another $175,000 for television and radio rights for the 10 p.m. EDT championship scrap.

Only a small fraction of the 120,000 who jammed this same stadium to watch Gene Tunney lift Jack Dempsey's title 26 years ago will be on hand. But many times that number will watch and listen on TV NBC and radio ABC. There will be a 75-mile TV blackout of the Philadelphia area.

Fair weather is predicted for the show. If it should rain, the bout will be staged tomorrow night with the same TV setup.

The betting price was reported dropping from an early three to one favoring Charles to about two to one with Walcott money putting in an appearance.

Charles, heaviest of his career at about 192 pounds, loosened up briefly at his Pleasantville, N.J., training quarters yesterday. Walcott took a walk at Atlantic City, N.J. Both will remain at their seashore camps until today driving in for the weigh-in at 12:30 p.m. EDT at the arena. Walcott is expected to weigh 195, about his normal weight.

The weight situations had some of the experts wary of Charles. At the Monday physical exams he scaled 196½. He explained later he took two or three glasses of water before he got on the scales.

Even at 192 pounds, Charles will be 10 full pounds heavier than he was at Pittsburgh when he lost the championship. Ray Arcel and Jimmy Brown, his trainers, believe the ex-champ from Cincinnati is stronger and punches harder at his new weight. They admit he will not be quite as fast.

The pick here is Charles on a knockout inside nine rounds, on the theory that Joe can't go on forever. He has the KO punch but may fade fast.

All ring traditions says Charles can't do it. Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, Max Baer, Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis failed before him in their bids to win back boxing's richest prize.

Under Pennsylvania rules, the 15-round bout will be decided on a round basis. If the three officials—referee and two judges—come out even in rounds they are expected to come up with a decision favoring the man who won the most "big" rounds. There is no point scoring but officials mark an "X" inside an "O" to indicate a "big" round.

The officials, probably one from the Pittsburgh area and two from eastern Pennsylvania, will be announced at ringside.

Red Sox Move Back Into Top Spot By Downing Indians, 13-11

Boston, (AP)—The Boston Red Sox drew a quick dividend yesterday from the new talent obtained in Tuesday's five for four trade with Detroit as they regained the American League's top rung by ousting the Cleveland Indians with a boisterous 13-11 victory.

Yankees Trip Pale Hose, 6-3

New York, (AP)—The upsurging New York Yankees climbed into third place yesterday defeating the Chicago White Sox, 6-3 behind the steady pitching of Eddie Lopat.

The Yankees found Joe Dobson's curve ball slants to their liking. They slammed the 35-year-old veteran for all their 13 hits before sending him to the showers in the sixth.

Big Gun
Yogi Berra slammed a single and home run. The four bagger came in the third with a mate aboard and snapped a 2-2 tie. Irv Noren slapped three singles in his first three times at bat, driving in the first Yankee run in the second.

Nelson Fox, Chicago's fine-looking second baseman, put himself out of action in a batting practice accident. He sustained a deep gash over his left eye when hit by his own batted ball and is expected to be out of action for at least three days.

The Sox got off to a 2-0 lead in the second when Sherman Lollar and Ray Coleman banged successive home runs with two out.

Bangor Club Members At Meeting Here

One of the highlights of the Kiwanis Club meetings at the Penn-Stroud hotel yesterday afternoon was the presentation of the 12th Division drum by a delegation of members of the Bangor club to the local unit. This is a feature of the observance of Inter-Club month set up by Kiwanis International.

The drum is passed along to other clubs until all have been visited. It got under way from Pottstown, home club of the division inter-club chairman, Dr. Paul Z. Hoffman. A delegation of Stroudsburg members take the drum to Allentown for presentation at the club meeting at the Americus hotel at noon today. The names of all club members at a meeting sign their names on lists which are placed in the drum.

David Stoddard, past president of the Bangor club, made the presentation. Others in the delegation were Ernest Sturtzo, James Drury, William P. Bray and A. C. Oberholzer. Sturtzo and Stoddard led the singing.

Due to the fact the All Organization meeting will be held at Camp Tamiment next Tuesday, Stroudsburg club will hold a round table meeting next Wednesday. A large delegation of members of the local club and their ladies have registered for the Tuesday session. There will be 17 clubs represented.

Russell Harmon invited the members to visit the rhododendron nursery where the laurel is in bloom.

Bert George was program chairman and presented the General Motors film, "Out of the Muddle," with Wilmer B. Frisbie operating the projector. The film covered the traffic congestion on highways from the early days when people first started "getting us out of the mud."

The tremendous growth and expansion of motor vehicles was brought out and the inadequacy of highways to carry the load. Points specified as the cause of the conditions existing now were brought out as follows: Highways are dying; wartime neglect; inflation; increased traffic; we built for yesterday; city bottlenecks and unwise speeding.

Gilbert L. Smrz, president, welcomed William H. Tucker and William Heller, Stroudsburg, as guests. Numa J. Snyder, club pianist, goes on his summer vacation next week and Johnny Eaton will serve in that capacity during his absence.

In 1931, U. S. railroads were paid more than a billion dollars for hauling coal.
